

Acoustic Consultant

Dr. Delphine Bard

Acoustic Facts - Head of International Relations

Associated Professor at Lund University, Sweden, PHD and Research Engineer

Delphine is an acoustic researcher (Docent), working with a wide variety of acoustics but specialized in architectural and interior acoustics. She has more than 15 years of experience in the topic and lately, she has been working with acoustic teaching development in order to disseminate the knowledge more widely.

Principal Project :

Industrial research project, "Acoustic comfort in buildings"

Human experience of noise in various premises in buildings in order to facilitate development of better products for sound insulation and room acoustic treatment. In the long run, the aim is to improve acoustics in buildings, creating environments for well-being and creativity - happy and satisfied people!

Architectural acoustic teaching in Lund University

-Teaching Instructor for Global Technical Sales person in selective European acoustical brand product & Ekous, Asia.

 ekous®

www.ekous.net